INTRODUCTION

Steeped in history on the stunning Jurassic Coast, Kimmeridge Bay is a truly unique spot. Whether you're climbing to the Grade II listed Clavell Tower where Thomas Hardy courted his first love, or you're discovering marine life in the tidal rock pools, this World Heritage Site offers something for everyone. From ancient fossils just waiting to be found, to the UK's oldest working oil pump found at the Northwest of the Bay, Kimmeridge Bay will intrigue & delight.

As Kimmeridge Bay's full time fisherman since the late 1980s Nick Ford works 300 pots using his sub 10 meter catamaran 'Obsession'. Bringing in fresh crab & lobster for our guests to enjoy.

Nick spends his days & nights between Mupe Rocks & St Alban's Head. The land & sea are Nick's whole life and we are incredibly lucky to enjoy the fruits of his labour in the form of sea to fish on plate, often caught & eaten within hours.
